FOREWORD

We are pleased to present the insurance industry's only directory which lists attorneys, adjusters, experts, MGA's, and insurance companies all in one handy publication. We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the enduring cooperation of insurance company officials, legal and claim department managers, and members of the Bar throughout the world who continually help us publish and maintain the industry's pre-eminent directory and website. We also are proud that we are the only publisher of directories listing independent agents operating in the U.S.

Along with the distribution of our digital directories, we have modernized www.barlist.com, providing easier than ever access to our subscribers, giving them even more recognition worldwide! Thousands of insurance professionals can now access the most up-to-date information and link directly with our subscribers' websites from www.barlist.com, ultimately retaining them and forming lasting relationships. Along with our subscriber information, copies of the recently combined INSURANCE BAR and CLAIM SERVICE GUIDE are readily available for your use in PDF format on our home page. Information on independent insurance agents and district courts, as well as maps and even more useful material is also available on our website.

INSURANCE BAR was first established in 1925 by R.W. Martindale. The directory originated as the official medium for the selection of legal counsel by the International Claim Association, the premier group of life, accident, and health companies. The directory was an immediate success and soon expanded its format to meet the needs of the property and casualty claims and loss departments for legal and adjustment services. Subscribers are required to provide verifiable references in order to qualify for listing. Our subscribers have been carefully investigated through established and authoritative sources as to their standing in the insurance industry.

The CLAIM SERVICE GUIDE, established in 1939, lists preferred independent adjusting firms located throughout the world. Only approved adjusters qualify for inclusion, and the class of business for which the adjuster has been recommended is indicated in their listing. References are verified and firms must be in business several years in order to qualify.

The Expert Service Provider sections of our directory and website contain listings of individuals and companies who offer their expertise in various fields associated with the insurance industry. Our subscribers have satisfactorily served insurance companies, self-insureds, law firms, and other industry professionals, and have been recommended by these companies to be listed.

The Insurance Field (est. 1889) INDEPENDENT AGENT HANDBOOKS are a unique and comprehensive provider of information on independent agents, MGA's, brokers, underwriters, life companies, P&C companies, select claim adjusters, and state and national organizations. Many agencies provide us with a list of carriers they represent. Select data for agents, MGA's, brokers, and underwriters in all 50 states is available at www.barlist.com, and is available for purchase in spreadsheet format.

We would be very grateful to receive any suggestions you may have on how we can improve our directories or website. We also invite law firms, independent adjusters and agents, and expert service providers not listed in our directories/website, to contact our office in Cleveland, Ohio (1-866-533-0400 or info@barlist.com) to determine if they qualify to be listed. Insurance company personnel and self-insureds are eligible to receive FREE copies of our directory, or digital copies can be downloaded at www.barlist.com.

Thank you for your valued support.

As a prominent figure in the global insurance and reinsurance market, Clark Hill represents United States, London, European, and Bermuda insurers and reinsurers in coverage disputes, arbitrations, insolvency and regulatory actions, and transactional matters. Our practice combines the talents of veteran insurance counsellors, accomplished coverage attorneys, formidable trial advocates, and seasoned appellate advisors who are known throughout the insurance reinsurance market. Our team is valued for extensive industry know-how and the ability to efficiently handle any complex matter in connection with (re)insurance--from representing a Bermuda reinsurer in arbitration with its cedant regarding an underlying settlement allocation, and appellate advocacy on behalf of excess layer insurers challenging coverage of a class action settlement, to providing an opinion on the status of credit insurance under state law. Importantly we are experienced in guiding managing general agents, producers, agents, and brokers through the array of legal challenges they face. Our team delivers counseling abilities to clients such as Lloyd's and other London market insurers, with respect to pre-underwriting and claims audits, management of high exposure claims, and providing coverage advice. We help clients evaluate risk, determine premiums, and draft policies regarding a wide variety of lines of business, including miscellaneous errors and omissions, workers compensation, billing E&O, hospitals, allied health risks, correctional health risks and physicians, and hospital management liability. Moreover, our firm assists with the management of high-exposure claims that extend from a nationwide network of defense counsel and other experts through litigation, trial, and appeal. We routinely work with clients' insureds and their counsel on developing and implementing focused and tactical defenses. Whether through early settlement negotiation or developing litigation strategies, our attorneys have maintained a reputation of dealing constructively and efficiently with clients.
